

ARMY SONGS.

HEAVEN PREPARED FOR ME.
(Tune—Ellacombe, 30; Mighty to keep; Song Book, 635.)
How happy every child of grace,
Who knows his sins forgiven!
(This earth, he cries, is not my place,
I seek my place in Heaven)
A country far from mortal sight,
Yet, Oh, by faith, I see
The land of rest, the saints' delight,
The Heaven prepared for me.

A stranger in the world below,
I calmly sojourn here;
Not can its happiness or woe
Provoke my hope or fear.
Its evils in a moment end,
Its joys as soon are past;
But, Oh, the bliss to which I tend Eternally shall last.

MY HOME IS IN HEAVEN.
(Tune—My home is in Heaven, 253;
Song Book, 634.)
I have a home that is fairer than day,
And my dear Saviour has shown me
the way;
Oh when I'm sad and temptations
arise,
I look to my home far away.

Chorus.
My home is in Heaven, there is no
parting there,
All will be happy, glorious, bright,
and fair,
There'll be no sorrow, there will be no tears.
In that bright home far away,
Friends I shall see who have journeyed before,
And landed safe on that beautiful
shore;
I shall see Jesus, that will be my joy,
In that bright home far away.

Oh, who will journey to Heaven
with me?
Jesus has died that we all may go free,
Come, then, to Him who has purchased for you
A crown in that home far away.

WILL YOU GO?
(Tune—We're Travelling Home,
128; Behold the Lamb, 122.)
We're travelling home to Heaven
above,
Will you go?
To sing the Saviour's dying love,
Will you go?
Millions have reached that blissful
shore,
Their trials and their labours o'er,
And yet there's room for millions more,
Will you go?

We're going to see the bleeding
Lamb,
Will you go?
In rapturous songs to praise His name,
Will you go?
Our sun will then no more go down,
Our moon no more will be withdrawn,
Our days of mourning ever gone,
Will you go?

Oh, could I hear some sinner say,
"I will go!"
I'll start this moment, clear the way,
Let me go!
My old companions, fare you well,
I will not go with you to hell,
I mean with Jesus Christ to dwell;
Let me go!"

For Sale—Splendid lantern and go dies, in good condition, O.K. for an offer. Write J. Boloyne,
Cape Breton, P. E. Island.

PUBLIC RECEPTION TO Commissioner & Mrs. Richards MASSEY HALL Thursday, December 3rd, at 8 p.m.

HIS WORSHIP THE MAYOR OF TORONTO, H. C. HOCKEN, ESQ., WILL PRESIDE.

THE CANADIAN STAFF SONGSTERS

Mixed Bands, Women's Chorus, Children's Choir, and Representative
Canadian Group will render Patriotic Musical Programme.

NEWSLETS.

(Continued from Page 8.)

Adjutant and Mrs. Weir have been appointed to Brandon, Man., and Adjutant and Mrs. Jynes go to Regina, Sask.

Ensign Oldford has erected an
Officers' Quarters at Pilley's Island, Newfoundland.

Captain and Mrs. Jones go to Neepawa, Man., and Captain Chitterton and Lieutenant Snell go to Westaskwin, Alta.

Captain Roe writes from Salisbury Camp, England, to say that he put in a full day at Devices Corps, and took part in the effort to raise funds for equipping The Salvation Army Ambulances, which are to be sent to the front. The Corps Officer, he says, is going to take the Band
to the Camp.

The father of Ensign Bertha Thompson recently passed away at Simcoo, Ont., also the father of Mrs.
Ensign Jordan, in Newfoundland.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to our comrades.

We regret to hear that Lieutenant
Luxton has had to enter a hospital.
Pray for all our sick comrades.

The Young People's Department has issued a poster to be exhibited in every Hall for the Corps Cadet Sunday, which will be observed on Nov. 29th.

A Songster Brigade is being formed at St. Catharines (Ont.), under the direction of Captain and Mrs.
Hobbs, and the comrades are enthusiastic for a good winter campaign—Ann.

COMING EVENTS

THE CHIEF SECRETARY

Toronto Officers' Meeting, Council
Chamber, Tuesday, Dec. 3, 4 p.m.

LIEUT.-COLONEL HARGRAVE

Yorkville (Toronto), Dec. 13.

LIEUT.-COL. & MRS. SWEETON

Teumessh St., Nov. 29; Parliament
St., Dec. 13.

LT.-COL. & MRS. CHANDLER

Lippincott, Nov. 29.

LIEUT.-COLONEL TAYLOR

Industrial Corps, Dec. 10; Lisgar
St., Dec. 13; Parliament St., Nov.
27 and Dec. 4. (United Holiness
Meeting of the Training College Division.)

BRIGADIER MILLER

Temple, Dec. 20.

BRIGADIER ABBY

North Bay, Nov. 24; Bracebridge,
Nov. 25; Orillia, Nov. 26.

BRIG. AND MRS. BETTRIDGE

London I., Nov. 26 (Weekly Holiness Meeting); Stratford, Nov.
28; London II., Nov. 29; Chatham, Nov. 30.

BRIGADIER McLEAN

(Captain Cox will accompany.)
Saskatoon, Nov. 26; Regina, Nov.
27.

BRIGADIER PHILLIPS

Temple, Nov. 20.

FIVE WEEKS TO CHRISTMAS

ONLY A SHORT TIME TO MAKE PREPARATION FOR CHRISTMAS PURCHASES. DO YOUR SHOPPING EARLY.
AND AVOID THE CROWD. SELECT FROM A LARGE AND
VARIED ASSORTMENT OF USEFUL ARTICLES FOR SAL-
VATIONISTS.

Xmas Post Cards 2 for 5c
Xmas Greeting Cards, each.....
Reliance Self-Filling Pens, $2.50
Post Cards of Canada's New Commissioners, each.....5c
Bonnets, quality 6, sizes 4, 5, and 6 $7.50
Bonnets, quality 4, sizes 4, 5, and 6 $5.50
Chip Hats, sizes 4, 5, 6.....$2.75
Felt Hats, sizes 4, 5, 6.....$2.75
Scripture Texts and Mottoes
..... 5c to 75c
Band Caps, sizes 6 1/2 to 7 1/2, $2.50
Soldier's Caps, sizes 6 1/2 to 7 1/2, $2.00

Soldiers' Guides..... 35c to 75c
Soldiers' Guides and Song Books,
..... 1.00 to 1.50
Song Books..... 25c to $1.00
S. A. Tune Book..... $1.00
Song Book and Bible, combined $1.25
B. O. S. Guernsey..... $1.50
Instrument Tutors, each..... $1.50
Metronome, with bell..... $2.50
Cornet Mutes, brass..... $1.25
Cornet Mutes, silver plated, $1.75
Life of General Booth..... 60c
Life of Mrs. Booth, a vol. $1.50
Outlines of Addresses, copy postpaid $1.00

THE WAR CRY

OFFICIAL GAZETTE OF THE SALVATION ARMY IN CANADA AND NEWFOUNDLAND

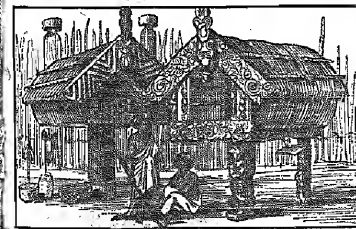

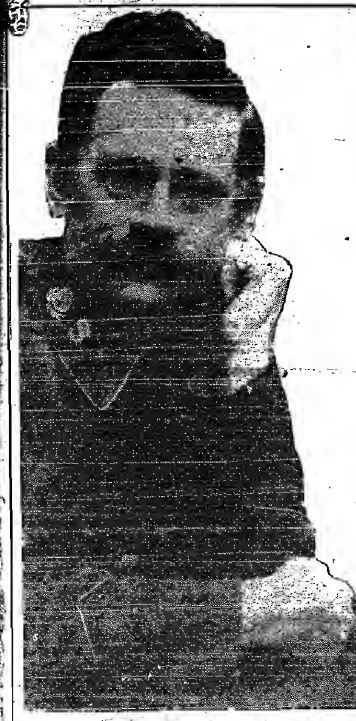

Editorial Headquarters: 201 Queen Victoria St., London, E.C.

Territorial Headquarters: James and Albert Sts., Toronto.

No. 10. Bramwell Booth, General

TORONTO, DECEMBER 2, 1914.

Price One Penny.

CANADA'S NEW LEADERS—COMMISSIONER AND MRS. RICHARDS (SEE PAGE EIGHT.)

world-wide Army service.

Bandmaster Beer, late of Calgary, has been welcomed as Bandmaster by the Peterboro (Ont.) Band. Bandmaster Beer has served in the Wood Green (Eng.) Band and others, and was warmly welcomed at a supper on Nov. 12th. Several of the Bandmen and Local Officers had words of welcome. We have farewell Bandmaster E. Dolman, who has left for Kingston with the Second Contingent. Our Songsters led the week-end meetings, Nov. 9th-10th, and on Nov. 11th gave a song service entitled "Echoes of the Congress." The Songster Brigade is commanded by Bandmaster A. E. Mayes—S. J. R.

Practice and hard work seems to be the motto of the Peterboro Young People Band, which, we hear, is making great headway. Under Bandmaster T. Blinn, the young Bandmen now assist the Junior meetings greatly by their playing. They hold their own Sunday evening open-air, and regularly play at the Senior meeting on Thursday evening—S. J. R.

Winnipeg Citadel Band visited St. James on Monday, Nov. 9th, and gave a musical service in the Oliver Baptist Church, which was well filled. Reeve Sieghart was in the chair. The English, Scottish, and Irish melodies by the Band and the xylophone solos by Miss Robinson were well received, as also were the piano and vocal solos by Brother James Irwin. Half the proceeds went to the Assiniboia District Relief Fund. Staff-Captain Peacock accompanied the Band.

BAND NOTES

In full force the Chatham (Ont.) Band turned out in order to do justice to the visit of the Chief Secretary, on Nov. 15th. Amongst other items, "The Sinner's Doom" was well rendered. Bandmaster G. Collett, late of Ottawa, has been welcomed into our midst, and has taken up his flat bombardment—G. C.

The week-end of Nov. 15th saw the Windsor (Ont.) Band over the International Boundary, at Pontiac, Mich. to give our comrades there a helping hand. Detroit Band, accompanied by Adjutant Conlin, visited our Corps for the Sunday afternoon and evening meetings, and did fine service. Much credit is due to Bandmaster Dobney for the efficiency and smartness which his Band exhibited. The Band rendered a number of songs amongst which were "Farewell, My Happy Home," which was given by special request. Adjutant Conlin's addresses at the afternoon and evening services were a source of great blessing—G. W.

On Thursday, Nov. 5th, the St. John I. Young People arranged a Song Service, which was a great success. There was a good attendance, and a soul sought pardon at the close—A. E.

Another meeting is held, we hear by the Wayburn String Band. This is a new venture, and the comrades say it is of great assistance on Sunday nights. A String Band was organized in preference to a brass or silver, for the reason that the latter is rather too small for the volume of sound, which would be occasioned by either of these—F. G. W.

Despite the fact that there was a heavy downpour of rain, the Brantford Band visited Paris, Ont., on Sunday, Nov. 15th, and conducted the meetings. The rain fell in torrents, but we had well-attended meetings, and in the afternoon Mayor Patterson presided, and spoke highly on the work of the Army, and complimented the Brantford comrades on their playing.

THE CALGARY "WAR CRY" BRIGADE, WHICH IS DOING EXCELLENT SERVICE IN BOOMING OUR PRAYER TOPICS.

Bottom Row (left to right): Sis. Kathleen Rippon, P. S. M. Emma Schell, Mrs. Adjutant Howell, Adjutant Howell, Gladys Howell, Bro. S. Vessey, Sis. A. Ouslain, Bro. Jensen, C. C. Lizate Carroll, and Candidate P. Bailey.

- Prayer Topics.
1. Pray continuously for The General.
 2. Pray for the new Commissioners' welcome campaigns to be a real blessing.
 3. Pray for the new Men's Social Secretary.
 4. Pray for the new Officers who have come to Canada in Women's Social Work.
 5. Remember in prayer all Social and Relief Officers and workers in their strenuous work at this war time.
 6. Continually pray, "Thy Kingdom come: Thy will be done."
 7. Pray for all who are bereaved or suffering through war conditions.

Daily Bible Readings.
SUNDAY, Dec. 6.—Unchanging Friend. Hebrews 13:2-11.
MONDAY, Dec. 7.—Giving of Wisdom. James 1:11-27.

The Praying League

TUESDAY, Dec. 8.—Real Rich Man. James 2:1-26.
WEDNESDAY, Dec. 9.—Devil's Light. James 3:1-18.
THURSDAY, Dec. 10.—Let the Lord Guide. James 4:1-17.
FRIDAY, Dec. 11.—Awaiting Prayer. James 5:1-20.
SATURDAY, Dec. 12.—Be Ye Holy 1 Peter 1:11-23.

Why Daniel's Prayer Was Answered
 (By Mrs. Blanche Johnston.)
 One of my correspondents requests that I will tell, through the Praying League Column, why Daniel's prayer was answered. I will try and comply with this wish, though space will permit it to be but briefly and only suggestive.

It will be remembered that Daniel was one of many Jewish lads carried away into captivity in Babylon by his king, Nebuchadnezzar. He was taken to Babylon, and the vessels of gold out of the Temple, amongst the Jewish princes, four are specifically mentioned. That they were of pious parentage is indicated by the meaning of the names they bore. Daniel—God is my Judge; Hananiah—Jehovah is gracious; Mishael—This is God; Azariah—Jehovah is a Helper.

After coming to Babylon their names were changed, according to the heathen custom, and "compounded with the fashions of heathenism." Daniel became Belshazzar, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. Favour of Bel or Belshazzar was Babylonian worship. Hananiah became Shadrach—Desire of the Moon God. Mishael became Abed-

THE WAR CRY. NEWS ABOUT INTERESTING PEOPLE

COUNT OKUMA.

LORD KITCHENER.

a man of great magnanimity. He lost a leg by a bomb thrown at him by a political opponent, who was transported for the crime. But as soon as the excitement died away the Count succeeded in obtaining the man's release and providing him a pension. Now this great man is devoting the labours of the remainder of his life to making men for China as well as Japan, for at the University are numbers of Chinese.

A Mayoral Friend.

Mayor McQuaker, of Owen Sound, is a warm friend of The Salvation Army, and a most outspoken admirer of its methods and work. In a recent letter to Adjutant R. Trekeby, the Corps Officer, he says: "Dear Adjutant—I desire to say to you that, as Mayor of this town, I do appreciate the splendid work being done by The Salvation Army. On all hands and in every emergency the Officers and members of the local Corps stand ready and willing to contribute their effort and energy for the uplift of humanity and the winning of the individual to a better life. I certainly admire the work, and accept every opportunity to witness to its value. Sincerely yours, John McQuaker, Mayor." We may say that the Mayor not only manifests his interest in The Army by presiding at important public gatherings, but he also visits the various sections of the Corps at their own meetings. Recently he addressed the Bandmen, and his advice on spiritual lines was most helpful to all.

He also spoke at a recent Young People's Company Meeting on their decision Sunday, and personally encouraged the children to come out there and then, and decide for Christ. Mr. McQuaker is an active church worker and superintendent in a local Sunday School. As a prominent business man of Owen Sound, his honourable dealings have gained him the respect of the entire community.

India's New Chief Secretary.

It is often observed that one of the most remarkable features of The Army is the manner in which it develops latent capacity. If this applies to any particular country more than another, it is especially applicable in respect to the work in India.

A striking example of this is seen in Colonel Sukh Singh (Sowars), who has just been appointed Chief Secretary for India and Ceylon, following Colonel Sena Singh (Sowars). Twenty-seven years ago he arrived in India an inexperienced young. To-day finds him one of the most responsible, capable, and successful Officers in India.

During the whole of that period he has only left India for two or three visits of short duration to England. He has had his full share of sickness and suffering, and has only recently recovered from a serious operation.

The Colonel is the personification of activity; here, there, and everywhere, his hand is on everything and he keeps many irons in the fire. He is not fastidious either with regard to his food or clothing. In meetings and in public he is very particular about his dress, but on all ordinary occasions he is to be seen barefooted and simply wearing a shirt and dhoti. In Bombay he is well known and held in considerable esteem, and he is the chief Honorary representative on the Permanent Famine Committee, and is looked to by the Indian leaders for advice and assistance when an difficult social problem is to be dealt with.

A Mayor's Tribute.

Mayor McCorbie, of Chatham, Ont., in presiding recently at the Chief Secretary's meeting in that city, paid a splendid tribute to The Salvation Army. He said:—

"The Army is doing a great work and the results are plainly to be seen. There have been the times of trial and tribulation, there have been the discouragements which only those with confidence in the righteousness of their cause, and in the Master Workman of the universe could face and overcome. This handsome edifice is a monument to the men and women who have laboured so faithfully in the work, but still greater monuments are the lives of men and women who have been reclaimed from lives of sin and vice through the sincere labour of the workers in The Salvation Army. The city has benefited, and while there may not have been any demonstrative appreciation on the part of the general public, still I feel that Chathamites do appreciate the good work you are doing."

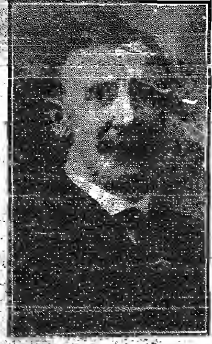

THE OSHAWA SONGSTER BRIGADE.

We regret that the following came too late to accompany the picture of the Songsters published last week—

Since this picture was taken we have had a few farewells and a few welcomes. Sisters Graves and Nicholls and Brother Hinkelman have farewells, and Sisters A. & N. Bryant and R. Bailey and Brother R. Ward have been welcomed.

Brother Hinkelman is by nationality a Hollander, and when war broke out his country called him, and being a good soldier and willing to obey, he went. He is now somewhere in Holland training with the army in case of need. We are praying for him that God may keep him safe until he can come back and help us again.

Although the Brigade is only a year and a half old, it has steadily made progress. Most of this is due to the former Songster Leader, Brother Calvert, who is now in Peterboro. Brother T. Gould is the present Leader. We sing out of the latest Musicals, and on a recent Sunday gave a good interpretation of the Canadian Delegates' Song—"O Canada." Not only have we progressed, but we intend, by God's grace in go on to be the greatest means of winning souls possible.

MAYOR MCCORBIE, Chatham.

MAYOR MCQUAKER, Owen Sound.

CHRISTMAS "WAR CRY" SHIPMENTS.

Will Field Officers please note that the Christmas "War Cry" will be arriving at each Corps in instalments, in cases where the order is a heavy one. Every Corps in the Territory will have received the first shipment by the end of November. Should any Officer need a second supply in a hurry, a wire or post-card to Major Atwell will receive immediate attention.

WAR CRY

PRINTED FOR The Salvation Army in Canada, Newfoundland, Bermuda, and Alaska, by The Salvation Army Printing House, 16 Albert Street, Toronto.

The Commissioner In The West

It will be seen by the telegraphed summaries of the Commissioner's welcome campaign, up to Monday night, that God has set His seal upon the meetings in a very blessed manner, and that our new Leader has received a most encouraging reception at the hands of his troops in the West. This is what was expected, and we can promise our new Leader the same in whatever part of the Territory he may travel. His long years of successful service and his recognized abilities have won for him a deservedly high place amongst Salvation Army leaders, and the Canadian forces have anxiously desired the coming of himself and Mrs. Richards ever since The General informed this country that he had appointed Commissioner Richards to this command.

At the Territorial Headquarters arrangements are being made, as will be seen by the notices elsewhere, to give Commissioner and Mrs. Richards a reception that shall be in accordance with the importance of the position they occupy, and the esteem in which they are held.

It will be observed by the reports that the Commissioner has made a most favourable impression; that his public gifts were exercised with great success, and, as a result, at Vancouver, sixty-five seekers after Salvation and Sanctification were recorded. Hallelujah!

Let every reader pray for our new Commissioner. Upon him will rest enormous responsibilities, and we are sure that his first request of the Canadian forces would be for their prayers. Before him are spread vast opportunities. Canada, as a nation, is developing at a tremendous rate, upon the land of the Canadian west of The Salvation Army devolves, in a great measure, the opportunity and responsibility of keeping The Salvation Army abreast of these things. In the name of Christ, he calls for our prayers and service. Commissioner and Mrs. Richards may feel confident they have them.

Commr. and Mrs. Richards

At Vancouver and Calgary

Enthusiastic Welcome Meetings

UNPRECEDENTED CROWDS

COMMISSIONER "SWALLOWED WHOLESALÉ."

SIXTY-FIVE SEEKERS AT VANCOUVER.

THE MAKURA docked at Vancouver wharf on Friday morning during a torrenial downpour, which made any thing like a public reception to Commissioner and Mrs. Richards an impossibility.

The Chief Secretary and Mrs. Gaskin, Brigadier and Mrs. Green, and others met the Commissioner and Mrs. Richards on board and conveyed to them the greetings of the Canadian Command.

In a chat with the Chief Secretary the Commissioner told him that the voyage had, on the whole,

Mayor Baxter.

Who presided at the Commissioner's Welcome Meeting.

been enjoyable, and free from unpleasant incidents. The health of himself and Mrs. Richards was quite satisfactory, and that he felt in capital form to take up this important command. He was very grateful to God and The General for appointing him to such a field of useful work. The farewell from New Zealand was a demonstration of affection and appreciation of work done during their two years' of command that he will never forget.

Brigadier Green, the Divisional Commissioner, informs us that the Commissioner was most enthusiastically received by the comrades and friends of Vancouver—"swallowed wholesale" was the Brigadier's phrase—and his utterances have created an extremely good impression. Thousands lined the principal streets on Saturday evening to get a glimpse of Canada's new Leaders, as the great procession swept by, and the Citadel was packed for the meeting, which was of the most impressive description, and the audience in this, as in the succeeding meetings, were powerfully wrought upon by the words of the Commissioner.

A splendid Holiness meeting was conducted in the Citadel on Sunday morning, while the afternoon and evening services were held in the spacious Imperial Theatre, which was filled on both occasions.

In the afternoon meeting Mayor Baxter and C. E. Tidall, M.P.P. for Vancouver, spoke in glowing terms of The Army's Work, and the Commissioner's oratory swayed the crowds at will. The great audiences laughed and cried by turns, and marked conviction was manifested.

Mrs. Richards spoke beautifully at each meeting. The crowds were unprecedented. Brigadier Green states that with respect to the skillful handling of the meetings, too much cannot be said. There were sixty-five seekers for the week-end's campaign.

The Commissioner was delighted with the demonstration of The Salvation Army on the Pacific Coast. With respect to the meeting at Calgary on Monday evening, Major Hay says:—

"Calgary enthusiastically greeted Commissioner and Mrs. Richards. The Citadel was packed, and Mayor Simoni, who presided, was very felicitous in his welcome to The Army's new Leader. As the Divisional Commander, it fell upon myself to read an address expressive of the welcome the Officers and Soldiers of the Alberta Division extended to our new Leaders. The Hon. W. H. Crofting moved a vote of thanks to the chairman and eulogized the work of The Army. Bandmaster Cruikshank seconded the same.

C. E. Tidall, M.P.P.

The Commissioner's marvellous powers of delivery held and delighted the vast audience for an hour. Everyone who heard him declared that Commissioner Richards is well qualified to be Canada's Leader. Faith runs high for the future.

PERSONAL

INTERNATIONAL

The General and Mrs. Richards arrived in Toronto on Monday morning, from Winnipeg, at the Union Station by Head-Quarter's train. The General and Mrs. Richards were met by the staff of the Headquarters, and the General was greeted by the staff of the Headquarters.

Mrs. Richards, who has been in Canada in connection with the work of the Headquarters, arrived in Toronto on Monday morning, from Winnipeg, at the Union Station by Head-Quarter's train. The General and Mrs. Richards were met by the staff of the Headquarters, and the General was greeted by the staff of the Headquarters.

The Chief Secretary and Mrs. Gaskin, Brigadier and Mrs. Green, and others met the Commissioner and Mrs. Richards on board and conveyed to them the greetings of the Canadian Command.

In a chat with the Chief Secretary the Commissioner told him that the voyage had, on the whole,

been enjoyable, and free from unpleasant incidents. The health of himself and Mrs. Richards was quite satisfactory, and that he felt in capital form to take up this important command. He was very grateful to God and The General for appointing him to such a field of useful work. The farewell from New Zealand was a demonstration of affection and appreciation of work done during their two years' of command that he will never forget.

Brigadier Green, the Divisional Commissioner, informs us that the Commissioner was most enthusiastically received by the comrades and friends of Vancouver—"swallowed wholesale" was the Brigadier's phrase—and his utterances have created an extremely good impression. Thousands lined the principal streets on Saturday evening to get a glimpse of Canada's new Leaders, as the great procession swept by, and the Citadel was packed for the meeting, which was of the most impressive description, and the audience in this, as in the succeeding meetings, were powerfully wrought upon by the words of the Commissioner.

A splendid Holiness meeting was conducted in the Citadel on Sunday morning, while the afternoon and evening services were held in the spacious Imperial Theatre, which was filled on both occasions.

In the afternoon meeting Mayor Baxter and C. E. Tidall, M.P.P. for Vancouver, spoke in glowing terms of The Army's Work, and the Commissioner's oratory swayed the crowds at will. The great audiences laughed and cried by turns, and marked conviction was manifested.

Mrs. Richards spoke beautifully at each meeting. The crowds were unprecedented. Brigadier Green states that with respect to the skillful handling of the meetings, too much cannot be said. There were sixty-five seekers for the week-end's campaign.

The Commissioner was delighted with the demonstration of The Salvation Army on the Pacific Coast. With respect to the meeting at Calgary on Monday evening, Major Hay says:—

"Calgary enthusiastically greeted Commissioner and Mrs. Richards. The Citadel was packed, and Mayor Simoni, who presided, was very felicitous in his welcome to The Army's new Leader. As the Divisional Commander, it fell upon myself to read an address expressive of the welcome the Officers and Soldiers of the Alberta Division extended to our new Leaders. The Hon. W. H. Crofting moved a vote of thanks to the chairman and eulogized the work of The Army. Bandmaster Cruikshank seconded the same.

NOTES AND REFLECTIONS

By The General

I WANT to utter a word of warning. Many, precious things are being destroyed in this hateful war. It is not very easy to foresee as yet how wide-spread and far-reaching that destruction will be. To begin with, what a loss there is in treasure, in money, in wealth of every kind! Nobody knows how much the war is costing the nations. Probably the cost never will be known. And yet, alas, money is so sadly needed for all that belongs to the helping and blessing of the people! What loss there is in the matter of time! How dreadful for millions of men in the prime of life to be spending days and weeks and months in the one sole business of destruction when every hour might have been spent in serving and blessing their fellows.

What ruin of genius and waste of energy and other human powers we witness—energy and genius and powers which could have been of such incalculable worth to mankind if only they had been spent in the true service of the world—in beautifying it, in teaching it, in lifting it up instead of trampling it down. What destruction is going on in the cutting short of unrevealed capacities in those who perish—in the musicians, the painters, the sculptors, the authors, the explorers, the teachers of mankind, whose gifts are lost before they have been discovered. What ruin and loss to the world in the destruction of more material things; ancient buildings, beautiful works of love and genius, stately, as well as simple, homes which can never be replaced, towns and villages which have been slowly growing up for a thousand years—now blotted out and gone!

And greater than all this, what a loss there is in human life! Who shall measure it? Who shall comprehend the awful greatness of that loss? Not only the lives of soldiers and sailors and fighting men generally, but lives of men, women, and children among every class in the communities concerned. Which ever way we look, despair is trampling down his thousands and death his tens—many, hundreds—of thousands!

Now, all this is dreadful—perhaps, so dreadful as to be, thank God, beyond our present powers of comprehension! We cannot take it all in. Heart and mind alike are numbed in the presence of such stupendous calamities. For myself, I can only say that as these days of anxiety and bloodshed drag their weary length along, I feel sometimes as if my heart would break. And yet, much as I know, I am only too well aware that I do not know half! I can only cry out that soon, very soon, the great God will surely visit us in this mercy as well as in His wrath.

And yet, over it all, there hangs a still more appalling apprehension, the fear of another danger which elings to me night and day. The spirit of war, at any rate of this war, seems to demand not only that the terrible sacrifices I have just named should be offered on its bloody altars, but that even more precious and gracious things than these should be demanded of us. I mean that it will do its utmost to kill our sympathy with suffering. It will try, no matter what nation we may be of, to destroy our pity for the wrong-doer, in what seems to us to be his blindness and wickedness. It will try to close up the fountains of our compassion for those who injure us, and to silence our prayers to God for those who despicably use us or our people. The spirit of war, I say, will strive even to put to death that most Christ-like thing in our whole lives—our love for our enemies.

I am very anxious about this. If the war involves such a calamity, that will be the worst of all for the Kingdom of God. And, alas! so much around tends to favour the growth of this most evil fruit of what is going on. The newspaper stories of cruelty and deception in every country, and which are seldom quite true, and the repetition of incidents which belong to the most horrible side of all war, whether true or false, and I fear also very much of the everyday talk of multitudes of the people, all tend to increase this danger. And the Father of Hatred is ever ready to promote and foster anything that will help the evil.

Now, I say, we must refuse to sacrifice these gracious things. We cannot, we must not, give them up! We must not hide them or bury them. We must not be ashamed of them. In the Name of the great God of Love, we must refuse the awful demands which are being made by the god of war to yield to the rage and the hate and the lust of revenge which are only too awfully manifold around us. We must, by the help of God, keep our tender sympathy with suffering, for it is the sympathy of Christ. We must cherish and encourage in our own hearts pity for the wrong-doers because it is the pity of Christ. We must let our compassion flow out towards, and our prayers ascend out towards, those who oppress and injure us, because that is of the very spirit and of the very command of Jesus Christ. And, above all, we must go on loving our enemies, because to love is of God, and without love to love is impossible to know Him, or to please Him, or to be His.

Remember the unchangeable law which Jesus laid down for us—"As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. For if ye love them that love you, what reward have ye? For even the sinners love those that love them." (Luke 11:32-34)

Massey Hall Meeting

COMMR. & MRS. RICHARDS TO RECEIVE A DEMONSTRATION OF TORONTO'S WARMTH OF WELCOME.

Premier and Mayor to Speak

MUSICAL COMBINATIONS TO RENDER MUSICAL GREETINGS.

The welcome meeting to our new Leaders, Commissioner and Mrs. Richards, promises to be one of great human interest, Salvation Army significance, and spiritual power.

It will be very representative in character. To begin with, there will be cordial messages of greeting from His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, the Governor-General; from the Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Borden, Prime Minister of the Dominion, and from the Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier. These will represent Canada in its federal aspects. There will be speeches by the Hon. N. H. Hearn, Premier of Ontario, representing the Province; His Worship, Mayor Hocken, representing the City of Toronto, and by Warden Gilman, of the Central Prison, representing work of social service rendered to the community by The Army. The various churches will be represented.

The world-wide Army will be represented in a message from The General, and the Territory at large will voice its feelings in messages from the Divisional Commanders. It will be a truly representative gathering, as will be met—seeing that the Chief Officer of such a successful and far-reaching Organization as The Salvation Army is to be welcomed.

Commissioner and Mrs. Richards will also be welcomed with harmonious sounds. The Massed Bands of the city will be present. The voluminous harmony that the 300 Toronto Bandmen can render abide with all who have heard it as a pleasant memory. We understand that the opening song will be that well-known, mighty Salvation Army battle hymn, "Rule, Jehovah," to the tune, "Rule Britannia." The Massed Bands will lead.

But there will be contrasts in music, for in this meeting the newly-formed Staff Songsters will make their appearance. They are down, we observe, for a vocal selection, and Major Arnold is drilling them relentlessly in voice production, while the Tailoring Department is labouring diligently at their uniforms, so we shall no doubt enjoy a combination that will gladden the eye and please the ear, and stir the soul.

Then there is a woman's chorus of one hundred and fifty voices. They will sing a stirring welcome hymn to that truly noble tune: "O Canada." A children's chorus will also extend a vocal welcome.

The service will not be lacking in the spectacular, for a highly picturesque procession representing the nationalities, the localities, and classes amongst whom The Army labours, will march through the hall, and sing a greeting.

Then, in addition to all the foregoing, will be the welcome address of our new Leaders. God bless them! Let all Salvationists and friends rally to the Massey Hall on Thursday, Dec. 3rd, and give to Commissioner and Mrs. Richards the most rousing reception they have ever had.

(Continued on Page 15.)

Feeding A Million Men

WHAT THE SOLDIER EATS.

(Continued from last week.)

THIS brings the army ration or fuel supply of the fighting machine down to practically an irreducible minimum of five main type-fuels, lacking any one of which disease and breakdown are certain—bread, beef, fat, sugar, and other fruit juice or vegetables.

Even such a trifling ingredient as salt is absolutely indispensable, and its absence is very felt. Of one of the wonderful food forced marches, which established the world's records for infantry, a division of Stonewall Jackson's famous "foot-cavalry" left its wagons so far behind that it was forced to live for three days on nothing but green corn, pickled and roasted in the field. When the men struck the supply train their first wild rush was for the salt barrels, which they stole in at once; and, as soon as they were in hand, they licked it up as eagerly as colts from a clover field.

Beginning with bread, every imaginable grain, nut, root, pith, or pulp that contains starch has been tried out as a substitute for it, because there are either cheaper in proportion to their starch content than wheat or can be grown in climates and latitudes where wheat will not flourish. Corn has been tried in the subtropics, rice in the tropics, oats, rye, and barley in the north temperate zone, potatoes, sago from the palm, and tapioca from the manioc root.

Only the net result can be given here, which is that no civilized nation that can afford to raise money or provide the transportation to get wheat will allow its army to live on any other yet discovered or invented grain or starch. Rice, corn meal, potatoes, sago, and tapioca are, of course, ruled out at once, because they contain only starch and nothing to match in the slightest degree the twelve or fourteen per cent. of gluten, or vegetable meat, that gives wheat its supreme value.

After our first food analyses a desperate attempt was made to substitute corn for wheat, because it contained from five to seven per cent. of protein—called zein—a perfectly good protein in the books and in the laboratories; but it simply would not work in the field. Armies fed on it promptly showed signs of nitrogen starvation; and, about thirty years later, up came our physiologists with the belated explanation that, though zein was a right enough protein in composition and chemical structure, only about a third of it could be utilized in the human body.

As for the northern grains, barley, rye, and oats, which also contain some gluten, they are all inferior to wheat—rye and barley on account of their low protein content and considerable bulk of unnutritious, gelatinous and gummy materials, which dilute the digestible and cause on account of the irritating bitter extractives with which their high percentage of protein is combined. No wheat or Scotchman can live on oatmeal; and it has taken generations of training to enable even him to do it.

The next foundation stone, for which the economists endeavored to substitute something else, just as good and far cheaper, was beef; and like the beef of the olden times, no other kinds of meat—venison, fowl, game, fish, or other animal substance—would take its place for a moment; partly because they are lacking in certain elements necessary for nutrition and partly because they contain some poisonous flavouring substances, extractives or split proteins, which promptly upset the digestion and the health when they are used as steady articles of diet.

For campaign purposes, as an indispensable staple, bacon is perhaps even more valuable than beef, because it is twice as nutritious in proportion to its bulk, will keep in any climate, can be cooked any old way, and yet be good, may be dropped in the river, run over by an ammunition wagon, rolled on by a mule, left out in the rain all night or in the sun all day, and yet be perfectly good, chuck—yes, "hyas skeelunk chuck," "beep bully good grub!" when cleaned, trimmed, and fried.

Besides, it has the great advantage of containing the second of the indispensable elements—fat—as well; and it can be used for frying or as shortening in bread or biscuit. Blessed be bacon! Like beef, it boasts the one great and only unmistakable earmark of permanent value—you can eat it once a day all the year around and never tire of it.

But is even this dietie trinity of bread, beef, and sugar, with eggs and dessert on the side, sufficient? The results of a hundred campaigns have shown that it is not. Man is not merely a stomach and muscles—he is also a bundle of nerves—and they require their share of pabulum. In the early days the nerve-stealer in the soldier's diet was alcohol, now in the form of grog—beer, wine, whisky; and up to about one hundred years ago alcohol in some form was considered to be an absolutely indispensable part of the army ration.

Gradually, however, and by bitter experience, it was realized that alcohol's way of steadying and supporting the nerves was to paralyze them; that it gave no nourishment to the body and, instead of improving the digestion and utilization of food, really hindered and interfered with them. Man must have something to drink as well as to eat; but what can be found as a substitute?

About two centuries ago two new planets came into our human ken above the dietetic horizon—tea and coffee. It is doubtful whether any addition to the comfort of civilized man within the last two hundred years in the realm of dietetics can be mentioned that equals them. Certainly, if we took into consideration the one great and only unmistakable earmark of permanent value—you can eat it once a day all the year around and never tire of it.

But is even this dietie trinity of

Home Again---Off Again

THE PROPERTY AND IMMIGRATION SECRETARY TALKS OF HIS TRIP TO ENGLAND.

LIEUT.-COLONEL W. J. HARGRAVE, having satisfactorily concluded his business with The Army's Leaders in England, has returned safely to Toronto. He has some interesting things to tell regarding the trip and what he saw in England.

"It was a novel experience for me to be in a ship that had its portlights blighted with night, its windows black with night, its interior dark with night, for fear of hostile cruisers. When about half-way across the Atlantic we received a wireless message to the effect that we must alter our course as the Manchester Commerce had been sunk by a mine off the north of Ireland. So we had to get to Liverpool around the south of Ireland. One day a warship was seen on the horizon. It was apparent that it was following us, and some of the more nervous passengers began to think it was a hostile cruiser. After ascertaining that, though zein was a right enough protein in composition and chemical structure, only about a third of it could be utilized in the human body.

"As for the northern grains, barley, rye, and oats, which also contain some gluten, they are all inferior to wheat—rye and barley on account of their low protein content and considerable bulk of unnutritious, gelatinous and gummy materials, which dilute the digestible and cause on account of the irritating bitter extractives with which their high percentage of protein is combined. No wheat or Scotchman can live on oatmeal; and it has taken generations of training to enable even him to do it.

"The next foundation stone, for which the economists endeavored to substitute something else, just as good and far cheaper, was beef; and like the beef of the olden times, no other kinds of meat—venison, fowl, game, fish, or other animal substance—would take its place for a moment; partly because they are lacking in certain elements necessary for nutrition and partly because they contain some poisonous flavouring substances, extractives or split proteins, which promptly upset the digestion and the health when they are used as steady articles of diet.

For campaign purposes, as an indispensable staple, bacon is perhaps even more valuable than beef, because it is twice as nutritious in proportion to its bulk, will keep in any climate, can be cooked any old way, and yet be good, may be dropped in the river, run over by an ammunition wagon, rolled on by a mule, left out in the rain all night or in the sun all day, and yet be perfectly good, chuck—yes, "hyas skeelunk chuck," "beep bully good grub!" when cleaned, trimmed, and fried.

Besides, it has the great advantage of containing the second of the indispensable elements—fat—as well; and it can be used for frying or as shortening in bread or biscuit. Blessed be bacon! Like beef, it boasts the one great and only unmistakable earmark of permanent value—you can eat it once a day all the year around and never tire of it.

I chatted with several who were able to speak English. "Whitney Pier was a very dark place at night now, as all the street lights are extinguished and no illuminations are allowed outside shops or saloons. This makes the streets very dismal. As regard Headquarters, business is going forward very much as usual, though the staff is somewhat reduced."

"And The General?" "I found him very much burdened with the additional anxieties caused by the war. He is facing things bravely, however, and in conversation with me expressed himself very hopefully regarding the future. I might mention also that I had an interview with the Chief of the Staff, who is looking remarkably well and fit. The greater part of my business was with Commissioner Lamb, and I spent a good deal of time in conference with him over next year's Emigration affairs. He seemed to be very much relieved to learn that it was a British ship."

"How did you find things in England, we asked. "Well, of course, there was a good deal of excitement everywhere over the war, and military preparations were much in evidence. I was told that numbers of British Army Officers and Soldiers had been called to the colours, and that numbers of others had volunteered their services as Red Cross workers."

"In London I came across several of the Canadian Contingent, some of whom told me that they were preparing to go to the front. The Army is doing a splendid work at the various military camps."

"Did you see anything of the Belgian refugees?" "Yes, I visited Southend to do the week-end meetings, and took the opportunity of visiting Hadfield Park. Here I saw quite a number of refugees and about two hundred wounded Belgian soldiers."

"Did you see anything of the Belgian refugees?" "Yes, I visited Southend to do the week-end meetings, and took the opportunity of visiting Hadfield Park. Here I saw quite a number of refugees and about two hundred wounded Belgian soldiers."

"Did you see anything of the Belgian refugees?" "Yes, I visited Southend to do the week-end meetings, and took the opportunity of visiting Hadfield Park. Here I saw quite a number of refugees and about two hundred wounded Belgian soldiers."

were observed at the front, but no outward march the pleasure of the busy staff of General Joffre, who will meet the Canadian Chief Secretary, and then back to Toronto.

LAND OF BLACK DIABLO.

Notes by Chancellor of the Exchequer.

I have just returned from Cape Breton, the last of the great works. Starting off on his tour of the Bay, I had a good time received by the people. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

There were, in all, two hundred and fifty people. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

On Wednesday morning I drove to New Brunswick. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

Thursday was spent in the city of Sydney. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

Whitney Pier was a very dark place at night now, as all the street lights are extinguished and no illuminations are allowed outside shops or saloons. This makes the streets very dismal. As regard Headquarters, business is going forward very much as usual, though the staff is somewhat reduced."

"And The General?" "I found him very much burdened with the additional anxieties caused by the war. He is facing things bravely, however, and in conversation with me expressed himself very hopefully regarding the future. I might mention also that I had an interview with the Chief of the Staff, who is looking remarkably well and fit. The greater part of my business was with Commissioner Lamb, and I spent a good deal of time in conference with him over next year's Emigration affairs. He seemed to be very much relieved to learn that it was a British ship."

"How did you find things in England, we asked. "Well, of course, there was a good deal of excitement everywhere over the war, and military preparations were much in evidence. I was told that numbers of British Army Officers and Soldiers had been called to the colours, and that numbers of others had volunteered their services as Red Cross workers."

"In London I came across several of the Canadian Contingent, some of whom told me that they were preparing to go to the front. The Army is doing a splendid work at the various military camps."

"Did you see anything of the Belgian refugees?" "Yes, I visited Southend to do the week-end meetings, and took the opportunity of visiting Hadfield Park. Here I saw quite a number of refugees and about two hundred wounded Belgian soldiers."

"Did you see anything of the Belgian refugees?" "Yes, I visited Southend to do the week-end meetings, and took the opportunity of visiting Hadfield Park. Here I saw quite a number of refugees and about two hundred wounded Belgian soldiers."

NEWS NOTES and COMMENTS

PRINCE OF WALES has gone to the front and is the staff of General Joffre, who will meet the Canadian Chief Secretary, and then back to Toronto.

LAND OF BLACK DIABLO.

Notes by Chancellor of the Exchequer.

I have just returned from Cape Breton, the last of the great works. Starting off on his tour of the Bay, I had a good time received by the people. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

There were, in all, two hundred and fifty people. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

On Wednesday morning I drove to New Brunswick. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

Thursday was spent in the city of Sydney. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

Whitney Pier was a very dark place at night now, as all the street lights are extinguished and no illuminations are allowed outside shops or saloons. This makes the streets very dismal. As regard Headquarters, business is going forward very much as usual, though the staff is somewhat reduced."

"And The General?" "I found him very much burdened with the additional anxieties caused by the war. He is facing things bravely, however, and in conversation with me expressed himself very hopefully regarding the future. I might mention also that I had an interview with the Chief of the Staff, who is looking remarkably well and fit. The greater part of my business was with Commissioner Lamb, and I spent a good deal of time in conference with him over next year's Emigration affairs. He seemed to be very much relieved to learn that it was a British ship."

"How did you find things in England, we asked. "Well, of course, there was a good deal of excitement everywhere over the war, and military preparations were much in evidence. I was told that numbers of British Army Officers and Soldiers had been called to the colours, and that numbers of others had volunteered their services as Red Cross workers."

"In London I came across several of the Canadian Contingent, some of whom told me that they were preparing to go to the front. The Army is doing a splendid work at the various military camps."

"Did you see anything of the Belgian refugees?" "Yes, I visited Southend to do the week-end meetings, and took the opportunity of visiting Hadfield Park. Here I saw quite a number of refugees and about two hundred wounded Belgian soldiers."

"Did you see anything of the Belgian refugees?" "Yes, I visited Southend to do the week-end meetings, and took the opportunity of visiting Hadfield Park. Here I saw quite a number of refugees and about two hundred wounded Belgian soldiers."

used with a small piece of clean wire netting fitted in the neck opening, and a thin layer of clean cotton baling on the wire netting.

MAKING THEIR OWN DYE.

OWING to the cessation of imports from Germany, there is a great shortage in England of dyestuffs and colours. This has led to the formation of a company to has not only come into contact with the men who work in the dyestuffs, but he has shared in the conveying wounded to the hospitals, and made the acquaintance of the Indian troops.

There were, in all, two hundred and fifty people. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

On Wednesday morning I drove to New Brunswick. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

Thursday was spent in the city of Sydney. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

Whitney Pier was a very dark place at night now, as all the street lights are extinguished and no illuminations are allowed outside shops or saloons. This makes the streets very dismal. As regard Headquarters, business is going forward very much as usual, though the staff is somewhat reduced."

"And The General?" "I found him very much burdened with the additional anxieties caused by the war. He is facing things bravely, however, and in conversation with me expressed himself very hopefully regarding the future. I might mention also that I had an interview with the Chief of the Staff, who is looking remarkably well and fit. The greater part of my business was with Commissioner Lamb, and I spent a good deal of time in conference with him over next year's Emigration affairs. He seemed to be very much relieved to learn that it was a British ship."

"How did you find things in England, we asked. "Well, of course, there was a good deal of excitement everywhere over the war, and military preparations were much in evidence. I was told that numbers of British Army Officers and Soldiers had been called to the colours, and that numbers of others had volunteered their services as Red Cross workers."

"In London I came across several of the Canadian Contingent, some of whom told me that they were preparing to go to the front. The Army is doing a splendid work at the various military camps."

"Did you see anything of the Belgian refugees?" "Yes, I visited Southend to do the week-end meetings, and took the opportunity of visiting Hadfield Park. Here I saw quite a number of refugees and about two hundred wounded Belgian soldiers."

"Did you see anything of the Belgian refugees?" "Yes, I visited Southend to do the week-end meetings, and took the opportunity of visiting Hadfield Park. Here I saw quite a number of refugees and about two hundred wounded Belgian soldiers."

used with a small piece of clean wire netting fitted in the neck opening, and a thin layer of clean cotton baling on the wire netting.

MAKING THEIR OWN DYE.

OWING to the cessation of imports from Germany, there is a great shortage in England of dyestuffs and colours. This has led to the formation of a company to

has not only come into contact with the men who work in the dyestuffs, but he has shared in the conveying wounded to the hospitals, and made the acquaintance of the Indian troops.

There were, in all, two hundred and fifty people. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

On Wednesday morning I drove to New Brunswick. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

Thursday was spent in the city of Sydney. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

Whitney Pier was a very dark place at night now, as all the street lights are extinguished and no illuminations are allowed outside shops or saloons. This makes the streets very dismal. As regard Headquarters, business is going forward very much as usual, though the staff is somewhat reduced."

"And The General?" "I found him very much burdened with the additional anxieties caused by the war. He is facing things bravely, however, and in conversation with me expressed himself very hopefully regarding the future. I might mention also that I had an interview with the Chief of the Staff, who is looking remarkably well and fit. The greater part of my business was with Commissioner Lamb, and I spent a good deal of time in conference with him over next year's Emigration affairs. He seemed to be very much relieved to learn that it was a British ship."

"How did you find things in England, we asked. "Well, of course, there was a good deal of excitement everywhere over the war, and military preparations were much in evidence. I was told that numbers of British Army Officers and Soldiers had been called to the colours, and that numbers of others had volunteered their services as Red Cross workers."

"In London I came across several of the Canadian Contingent, some of whom told me that they were preparing to go to the front. The Army is doing a splendid work at the various military camps."

"Did you see anything of the Belgian refugees?" "Yes, I visited Southend to do the week-end meetings, and took the opportunity of visiting Hadfield Park. Here I saw quite a number of refugees and about two hundred wounded Belgian soldiers."

"Did you see anything of the Belgian refugees?" "Yes, I visited Southend to do the week-end meetings, and took the opportunity of visiting Hadfield Park. Here I saw quite a number of refugees and about two hundred wounded Belgian soldiers."

used with a small piece of clean wire netting fitted in the neck opening, and a thin layer of clean cotton baling on the wire netting.

MAKING THEIR OWN DYE.

OWING to the cessation of imports from Germany, there is a great shortage in England of dyestuffs and colours. This has led to the formation of a company to

has not only come into contact with the men who work in the dyestuffs, but he has shared in the conveying wounded to the hospitals, and made the acquaintance of the Indian troops.

There were, in all, two hundred and fifty people. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

On Wednesday morning I drove to New Brunswick. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

Thursday was spent in the city of Sydney. The people were well attended to by the people. The people were well attended to by the people.

Whitney Pier was a very dark place at night now, as all the street lights are extinguished and no illuminations are allowed outside shops or saloons. This makes the streets very dismal. As regard Headquarters, business is going forward very much as usual, though the staff is somewhat reduced."

"And The General?" "I found him very much burdened with the additional anxieties caused by the war. He is facing things bravely, however, and in conversation with me expressed himself very hopefully regarding the future. I might mention also that I had an interview with the Chief of the Staff, who is looking remarkably well and fit. The greater part of my business was with Commissioner Lamb, and I spent a good deal of time in conference with him over next year's Emigration affairs. He seemed to be very much relieved to learn that it was a British ship."

"How did you find things in England, we asked. "Well, of course, there was a good deal of excitement everywhere over the war, and military preparations were much in evidence. I was told that numbers of British Army Officers and Soldiers had been called to the colours, and that numbers of others had volunteered their services as Red Cross workers."

"In London I came across several of the Canadian Contingent, some of whom told me that they were preparing to go to the front. The Army is doing a splendid work at the various military camps."

"Did you see anything of the Belgian refugees?" "Yes, I visited Southend to do the week-end meetings, and took the opportunity of visiting Hadfield Park. Here I saw quite a number of refugees and about two hundred wounded Belgian soldiers."

"Did you see anything of the Belgian refugees?" "Yes, I visited Southend to do the week-end meetings, and took the opportunity of visiting Hadfield Park. Here I saw quite a number of refugees and about two hundred wounded Belgian soldiers."

General French and General Joffre at the Front.

At night—somewhere near the front—inside an abandoned farmhouse in the midst of fields, two men are together there—those on whom we are setting all our hopes and who are giving all their knowledge, their lives, for the freedom of the world. You never know where they are, and if you do see them, still you must not know where you meet them. They are nowhere and yet everywhere. The automobiles wait, waiting to carry them as quick as possible wherever their presence is manufacture dye-stuffs, so that the textile trades should not come to a standstill. Part of the capital will be subscribed by the Government. It is planned to acquire important dye-producing works.

SASKATCHEWAN CROPS.

THE grain crop of Saskatchewan in 1914 is valued at $200,000,192 by the Provincial Department of Agriculture. On a very conservative estimate the wheat crop is estimated at 7,416,643 bushels and valued at $66,030,410, or approximately 85c per bushel. The oat crop is estimated at 6,600,053 bushels, and valued at $22,570,501.20. The barley crop is estimated at 5,625,783 bushels and valued at $2,827,960.95, and the flax crop is estimated at $2,886,472 bushels and valued at $5,366,221.12. The acreage under wheat this year was 6,013,322 acres, an increase of 243,373 acres over the previous year.

A TEST FOR MILK.

THE test for dirty milk, which it might be well for the housewives of Canada to apply, is a perfectly clean funnel handling, and if trouble persists the local health authorities may well be notified.

C.P.R. LINE TO SIBERIA.

EARLY in November the Ninth Canadian Volunteer fleet, arrived at Vancouver, thus establishing a direct connecting link between Canada and Trans-Siberia. The Ninth Volunteer fleet will carry both freight and passengers. Another ship, the Kiev, will be put into this service later, while the C.P.R. announces that a monthly service of steamers may ply between Canadian and Siberian ports.

XMAS GIFTS FOR BELGIANS.

IT is being planned for a shipload of Christmas gifts to be sent by the Toronto children to the Belgian refugee children. It is intended to send gifts of clothing, none of which will be second-hand, food of a sort to appeal particularly to children, including various kinds of biscuits, dried fruits, etc., and, as a special treat, home-made candy. Funds will be collected from the children in the schools, who will be

BACON SCARCE IN ENGLAND.

THE morning rasher is becoming a more scarce in England, as supplies have not been received from Holland for the last fortnight. Denmark continues to send bacon to England, but the high prices of feed prevailing there threaten a shortage. Most of the Canadian and Irish bacon reaching England is being purchased by the Government for army and navy supplies. The wholesale prices have not been increased, but an advance is inevitable if the Dutch supply is cut off.

CATTLE DISEASE IN STATES.

THE discovery of foot and mouth disease among cattle in the United States has led to drastic legislation to prevent its spreading. There are now ten States under quarantine. They are New York, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Iowa, and Maryland. All these States are being inspected by the Government for every case of this plague, which affects cattle, swine, sheep, and goats.

The cost of putting down the epidemic is expected to run into millions of dollars. As regards Canada, the exportation of live stock to the States is prohibited. This is expected to affect the prices of meat, as cattle-raisers will find a big market closed to them.

DISTRESS IN BELGIUM.

THE conditions in Belgium are becoming more and more desperate. Relief work being done, are very serious, especially in the rural districts. Refugees are pouring into Brussels at the rate of 25,000 a day. This influx is due to a lack of fuel as well as of food.

Brussels has plenty of coal, but the interruption of transportation makes it impossible to carry coal to remote villages. This makes the villages dependent on kerosene for both heating and cooking, and the supply of this fuel is also becoming scarce.

Seventeen thousand tons of food have been distributed in Belgium since November 1st by the American Commission. Six hundred thousand meals are being supplied daily in Brussels by the Belgian National Relief Committee to three hundred thousand persons.

These meals consist of porridge, some rice, and a piece of bread. At first the allowance was six ounces daily, but this has now been reduced to three ounces, because of the scarcity of flour.

A MERCIFUL INVENTION.

A PREPARATION has been invented by some Swiss medical men, which, it is said, will stop almost instantly the flow of blood from a wound. It has been named coagulen.

It is in the form of a powder, and is dissolved in water before being applied to a wound. The discoverers of coagulen have made a gift of their invention to the armies in the field, and have sent large quantities of the powder to the surgical headquarters of both the German and French armies. It will likely save thousands of lives.

PUBLIC RECEPTION TO COMMISSIONER and MRS. RICHARDS MASSEY HALL, Thursday, December 3rd, at 8

HIS WORSHIP, MAYOR HOCKEN, WILL PRESIDE

Programme of Music by The Canadian Staff Songsters

A REPRESENTATIVE GROUP OF THE CANADIAN TERRITORY.

300 Bandsmen :: Women's Chorus of 150 Voices :: 100 Juveniles

MASSED BANDS WILL PLAY FROM SEVEN-THIRTY TO EIGHT O'CLOCK.

ARMY SONGS.

FROM EVERY STAIN MADE CLEAN.

Tunes.—For ever with the Lord, 68;
Song Book, 430.

From every stain made clean,
From every sin set free;
O blessed Lord, this is the gift
That Thou hast promised me.
And pressing through the past
Of failure, fault, and fear,
Before Thy Cross my soul I cast,
And dare to leave it there.

From Thee I would not hide
My sin, because of fear
What men may think, I hate my pride,
And as I am appear—
Just as I am, O Lord,
Not what I'm thought to be;
Just as I am, a struggling soul,
For life and liberty.

HAVE YOU ROOM FOR JESUS?

Tunes.—Room for Jesus, 153; Never can tell, 146.
Have you any room for Jesus—
He who bore your load of sin?
As He knocks and asks admission,
Sinner, won't you let Him in?

Chorus.

Room for Jesus, King of Glory!
Hasten now, His word obey!
Swing your heart's door widely open!
Bid Him enter while you may.

Room for pleasure, room for business;
But for Christ the Crucified—
Not a place that He can enter.
In the heart for which He died!

Have you any time for Jesus,
As in grace He calls again?
Oh, "To-day" is "time accepted,"
To-morrow you may call in vain.

Room and time now give to Jesus;
Soon will pass God's day of grace;
Soon your heart be cold and silent,
And your Saviour's pleading cease.

HARK, HARK, MY SOUL!

Hark, hark, my soul! what warlike
songs are swelling,
Through all the land and on from
door to door;
How grand the truths those burning strains are telling
Of that great war till sin shall be no more.

Chorus.

Salvation Army, Army of God;
Onward to conquer the world with Faith and Blood.

Onward we go, the world shall hear
our singing,
Come, guilty souls, for Jesus bids
you come;
And through the dark its echoes,
loudly ringing,
Shall lead the wretched, lost, and wandering home.

Far, far away, like thunder grandly
pealing,
We'll send the call for mercy full
and free;
And burdened souls by thousands humbly kneeling,
Shall bend, dear Lord, their rebel necks to Thee.

Conquerors at last, though the fight
be long and dreary,
Bright day shall dawn and sin's
dark night be past;
Our battles end in saving sinners
weary,
And Satan's kingdom down shall fall at last.

Orangeville, Ont.—Sunday, Nov.
15th, was a day of blessing at this Corps. Lieutenant Simco gave a very interesting talk at night. We have organized a Band of Love
Class.—I. J. J.

NOTICE.

Captain Hazel Lorimer, of Rockland, Me. U.S.A., would very much like to exchange an American
"War Cry" for a Canadian "Cry."

A FIELD DAY.

Dominion Alliance Representatives
Speak at Midland, Ont.

Sunday was Dominion Alliance
Field Day, we were visited by two representatives, the Rev. William Kettlewell and the Rev. Dr. Ross, who spoke with force on the temperance question, and referred to the Salvation Army as "the largest and best temperance society in the world." Finances were good.

Lieut.-Colonel Hargrave visited us on Oct. 20th, and gave a good address on the Young People's Work. There was a good and appreciative audience. Captain Elrick led the meetings on Sunday, Oct.
25th, and at the Young People's morning meeting a little girl surrendered.

METLAKHTLA, B. C.

We have a new Army Hall at this place, which, although not complet-ly finished, is fit for occupation. For many years there was no Hall, but last year, trusting in God for help, we started to build. We have not quite finished the inside work, but expect it will be done during the winter.—M. A.

FOUR WEEKS TO CHRISTMAS

ONLY A SHORT TIME TO MAKE PREPARATION FOR
CHRISTMAS PURCHASES. DO YOUR SHOPPING EARLY,
AND AVOID THE CROWD. SELECT FROM A LARGE AND
VARIED ASSORTMENT OF USEFUL ARTICLES FOR SAL-
VATIONISTS.

Xmas Post Cards, each, 2 for 5c	Soldiers' Guides, 25c to 75c
Xmas Greeting Cards, each, 10c to 15c	Soldiers' Guides and Song Books,
Reliance Self-Filling Pens, $5.00	Song Books, 25c to $1.00
Post Cards of Canada's New	S. A. Tune Book, $2.00
Commissioners, each, 5c	Song Book and Bible, com-
Bonnets, quality 6, sizes 4, 5, and	bined, $1.25
6, $7.50	B. O. S. Guernseys, $2.50
Bonnets, quality 4, sizes 4, 5, and	Instrument Tutors, each, $2.50
6, $5.50	Metronome, with bell, $3.50
Chip Hats, sizes 4, 5, 6, $2.75	Cornet Mutes, brass, $1.00
Felt Hats, sizes 4, 5, 6, $2.75	Cornet Mutes, silver plated, $1.75
Scripture Texts and Mottoes	Life of General Booth, 60c
Band Caps, sizes 5 1/2 to 7 1/2, $2.25	Life of Mrs. Booth, 2 vol., $1.50
Soldier's Caps, sizes 5 1/2 to 7 1/2	Outlines of Addresses, copy post
$2.00	paid, $2.00

THE WAR CRY

SPECIAL GAZETTE OF THE SALVATION ARMY IN CANADA AND NEWFOUNDLAND

National Headquarters: 101 Queen Victoria St., London, E.C.

Territorial Headquarters: James and Albert Sts., Toronto.

No. 11. Bramwell Booth, General

TORONTO, DECEMBER 12, 1914.

W. J. Richards, Commissioner. Price Two Cents.

Cities Visited by The Commissioner on the Way to Toronto

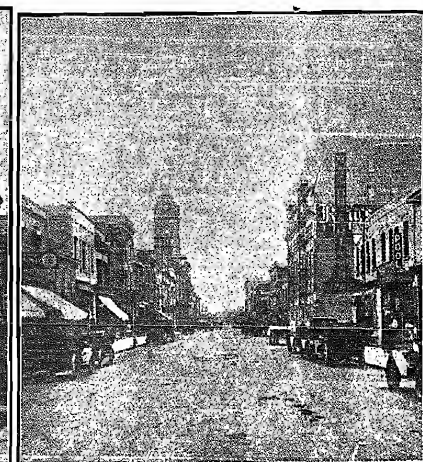

SASKATOON.

CALGARY.

WINNIPEG.

REGINA.

A WELCOME.

Envoy Hargrave
(Tues.)

Envoy Hargrave
on soul-sung an-dians of Northern
urday, Nov. 14th,
so bad on Sunday
was at a standstill,
good attendance
soul-sought Hollies
noon the Envoy
night a soul sought Envoy's lecture, and after conven-
on Monday evening
esting, and the
of Brother Snell and his sons, was a pro-

COMING.

THE COMMISSIONER
AND MRS. RICHARDS

Officers' Council, Tuesday, Dec. 4, 10 a.m. (Toronto), Sunday, Dec. 13.

THE CHIEF SE.

Toronto Officers' Council, Tuesday, Dec. 13,
Temple, Dec. 13.

LIEUT.-COLONEL
Yorkville, Toronto, Dec. 13.

LIEUT.-COL. & MRS.
Parliament St., Dec. 13.

LIEUT.-COLONEL
Industrial Corps, Dec. 13.

St. Dec. 13; Parliament St., Dec. 13.

Meeting of the Division, Dec. 13.

BRIGADIER HENRY
Temple, Dec. 20.

BRIG. AND MRS. RICHARDS
Stratford, Nov. 20.

Nov. 20; Chatham

BRIGADIER & MRS.
East Toronto, Dec. 13.

BRIGADIER C.
(Captain Eastwood)

Women U. S. A. at Tecumseh St. (Toronto)

MAJOR AND MRS.
Thornhill, Dec. 6, 1914.

MAJOR AND MRS.
Mimico, Dec. 6th.

Mrs. Blanche
St., Dec. 6th.